

www.juiceconference.org

NOVEMBER 13-14, 2009
Camden, Maine

“Building Maine’s Innovation Networks”

Conference Highlights:

- 40+ interactive sessions and coordinated networking opportunities
- Speakers: Nick Spitzer, NPR’s American Routes; Joe Lstiburek, Building Science Corporation; Liz Lerman, Liz Lerman Dance Exchange; Doug Hall, Eureka!Ranch & Marci Rossell, Economist for CNBC
- Pecha Kucha and a party Friday night
- Performances by Liz Lerman Dance Exchange and Aniruddha Knight
- Unveiling of Maine’s Innovation and Entrepreneurship Strategy
- Collaborators: The Maine Arts Commission; Realize!Maine and the Maine Development Foundation; Build Green Maine; The Maine Innovation Advisory Board; Waterfall Arts; and MEBSR

Key Questions:

- Why are creativity and innovation essential ingredients for Maine’s economy?
- How can arts organizations evolve in an age of technology and social media?
- What is the role of engineering and material science in the repurposing of traditional buildings?
- What are Maine’s leading networking organizations and companies doing to foster workforce development and career opportunities?
- What are the challenges and advantages of contributing to or raising venture capital in Maine?
- What are Maine’s greatest innovation success stories and how can we learn from them?

To register or learn more go to: www.juiceconference.org